The righteous cry, and the Lord hears and delivers them out of all their troubles. The LORD is near to the broken-hearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit.

Please pray for:

- Us to meet more young men and women at USF that God is drawing to Himself.
- Brehanna to give her life to Jesus.
- Sheneil to continue to grow in her new walk with the Lord.
- Kelechi, Nkem, Dunning, Anne and Nicole, that they would be encouraged as they reach out to their peers in Beta Hall and that more young women come to know Jesus through that Bible study. Please pray that Andrea would begin coming.

Our heart is to see young disciples grow in their relationship with Jesus and to be established in a church. Here is Aimee's testimony of how God connected her to our ministry:

I have been in Cornerstone Christian Church for almost three years now, since the beginning of my freshman year. It's amazing because I didn't come to college looking for a church, or God really.

I am from Littleton, Colorado and came to USF as an out-of-state student looking to escape my old life. I grew up going to church. My family church-hopped a lot. I always believed and knew there was a God. I knew He made me, and loved me, and even died for me on the cross. I remember being very young when I accepted Him into my heart and having a close relationship with Him. Growing older, my parents stopped going to church. Things were always rocky, my parents fought about everything, and I never had too many friends. Things got so bad that eventually I came to the conclusion in middle school that God didn't care about me, a little hurting girl from a deaf family. When high school started, I decided to go back to church on my own and ended up rededicating my life to God. However, I struggled to find Christian friends and I just settled for the friends that would accept me. In doing so, I compromised my walk with God.

Coming to college God was pursuing me. I was stopped with a survey from Cornerstone and was invited to church. I remember stepping into the sanctuary and feeling like I was home. I was blown away, when I saw people my age praising God. I saw that I wasn't alone and that I could be a Christian and have friends that loved Jesus. I started doing a Bible study with some of the girls from church, who were such great examples to me. I began to receive discipleship and learned how to walk out a continually surrendered life to the Lord. Soon, I became a member of Cornerstone, got plugged into a small group and I became a Bible Study Leader. This gave me the confidence to share the love of Christ to my peers. I learned to be a friend to those who didn't have friends. I am currently pursuing God's call on my life as a sign language interpreter. I am really excited to see God move in my future and how He will be glorified in the deaf community.
