We are so thankful for the work that the Lord has been doing this semester in the college students at USF. This month we are glad to share Curtis's testimony with you.

Growing up, I was raised in a Christian home by my parents. My mother urged us to take membership classes in our local Church. By age 14, I had completed all of the classes in our weekly meetings and I became a member. It was at this time I believed I had received salvation and could identify myself as a Christian. I took this identity everywhere I went and was considered by most of my friends as the "religious guy". I lived in a community where drugs and immorality were very common and even celebrated. I did my best to avoid these things but I still pursued a lot of drinking and carousing. I had the outward appearance of a Christian but in my heart I was far from God. I transferred to USF when I was twenty years old and met a campus minister from Cornerstone Christian Church within a month of attending school there. This minister reached out to me by offering to do a Bible study with me and inviting me to the church meetings on campus every Sunday. For the next few weeks I got involved in this weekly Bible study with the minister and I discovered what God's word meant and what it said concerning salvation. I quickly realized that the life I lived before was not a life surrendered to Christ but a life that was based on my works alone. This was the reason I was unable to break free from the sin I was enslaved to. It was on February 8, 2012 that I repented and surrendered my life to the lordship of Christ. I was amazed by the immediate freedom and joy I felt after doing so. I literally felt like I was born again! I continued to pursue a relationship with Christ and became both a member and an usher for Cornerstone Christian Church. I now also teach Bible studies as a Bible Study Leader on campus; reaching out to students the same way our campus ministers do. I can't imagine what my life would be like if it were not for Jesus and the campus minister who reached out to me.

Thank you so much for sowing into our ministry on the campus! Together we are reaping an incredible harvest as we see young men and women's lives eternally changed as they come into a personal relationship with Christ.

PLEASE PRAY FOR :

- ◇ Our campus staff and student Bible study leaders to be led by the Spirit as we minister to each individual student in our Bible studies.
- ◇ Trysha and Zulema, who surrendered their lives to Jesus last week, that they would grow in their new relationships with the Lord. Please continue to pray that Trysha's friend Charity would also come to know Christ.
- ◇ Boldness and strength for the students, that they can be a light and witness of the Truth in their classes and on the campus.
- ◇ Cheyenne, Jailyn, Yamin and Jheuel
